REVAMP HOUSING PLAN

U. S. GOVERNMENT CONSIDERING PLAN TO CONSTRUCT AND TO CONTROL HOUSING PROJECT

Indianapolis' five million dollar housing project as originally planned under control of limited dividend corporation is dead.

In its place is to be erected a federal housing unit, owned and controlled by the government, an announcement from Washington revealed Wednesday.

Appropriation to finance the new plan would come from the $123,670,500 federal housing corporation fund. Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the Interior and PWA administrator said in confirming reports of the change. It can be assumed, he said, that about the same amount of money will be allotted for the project as before, plus $500,000, which would be added to replace the equity which was supposed to have been raised in the first place. This would mean that $5,000,000 of federal money will be spent in Indianapolis, if the plan is carried through.

Ickes refused to reveal how soon officials expected to get the new plan under way, pointing out that it would have to be considered thoroughly before an allotment is made.

Summary rejection of the old plan and substitution of the new was unwelcome news to local promoters, who were told that they would not be reimbursed for the money spent in promotion.

Doubt has been raised by the new arrangement whether the erection of the slum clearance project in the Colored district would go forward on the same scale as originally planned.

Rejection of the Indianapolis plan as proposed by local promoters resulted, it was learned from a reliable source, from the government's desire to secure promotion of its low cost housing plans on the same general level in the various cities of the country in which it is hoped such projects can be built.

The Indianapolis plans, it is understood, were much nearer the point of actual construction than those for any other city.

Man Who Lived After Being Lynched To Relate Story Here

Norman Thibodeaux, Louisiana Negro, who escaped being lynched at the hands of a frenzied mob October last year, will appear in person at Phillips Temple Methodist Episcopal church, Drake and West streets, Thursday evening March 22nd, at a meeting sponsored by the Haywood Patterson branch of the I. L. D.

Thibodeaux will tell how his pal Freddy Moore and himself were taken by a mob, swung from a bridge with rope around their necks and left for dead. He was saved when the son of a white bridge tender cut the rope on which he hung. Moore was left to die.

The chief deputy sheriff of the county is said to have assisted the mob that inflicted severe wounds on the two men before the attempted lynching.

Following his narrow escape, Thibodeaux made his way to New Orleans, where he was treated at a hospital attached to Dillard university.

Later mob passion cooled when the step-father of the murdered girls the Colored men were accused of killing confessed he had committed the crime.

Admission is free and the public is invited.

Shirley Winfrey in Councilmanic Race

SHIRLEY H. WINFREY

At the solicitation of a number of leading citizens, including a group of the American Legion, Shirley H. Winfrey, a leading funeral director, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Councilman for the district.

For twenty-three years, Mr. Winfrey has been connected with the Funeral Directing business in the city of Indianapolis. Mr. Winfrey is also president of the Gibraltar Health and Accident Insurance company. He has been prominently identified in civic, religious and fraternal affairs. He is a member of the American Legion, serving eleven months overseas; member of the I. O. O. F. lodge; State Charity; A. U. K. & D. Of A. lodge and is a member of Jones Tabernacle, African Methodist Episcopal Zion church.

He was born in Vanderburgh county, Indiana, and has been a resident of Indianapolis for twenty-four years.

Mr. Winfrey has never held public office. He is married, has two children and lives at 450 West Twenty-sixth street.

He believes that the affairs of the city should be conducted on a business basis with honesty and strictest economy, giving thought at all times to the future welfare of the city and its citizens.

Movie Star Aids Scottsboro Boys

James Cagney, irrepressible bad boy of the movies, made a special trip to San Francisco, last week, to act as master of ceremonies at an auction in which more than $1,300 was raised for the benefit of the Scottsboro boys.

Celebrities from various parts of the world contributed articles for sale including an original manuscript by George Bernard Shaw.

"Great fun for me," said the high-powered movie favorite. "I wish those poor kids the best of luck."

Election Officials, Candidates, and Civic Leaders Urge Colored Voters To Register

Grave fears are being expressed by government officials, candidates entered in the primary race and civic leaders that unless colored citizens meet their responsibility, their voting power in the approaching elections will be considerably lessened.

Casual study of the registration figures being returned by precinct workers and clerks at the court house reveal that far too few colored persons eligible to vote have so far been registered. While in many cases opportunities to register have not yet been given citizens by precinct canvassers, persons are being warned that the additional court house service must be used in case of failure to be registered by the precinct workers if citizens are to vote in the primary election.

Registration My Be Permanent Room 34 in the court house is being used by County Clerk, Glenn Ralston for this purpose. April 9, he announces, is the last day for registration. Registration will be permanent provided voters do not fail to vote for a period longer than two years. In that event the person must re-register. Persons who move out of a precinct after being registered, must have their registration transferred to the precinct in which they reside.

The last of the teams of canvassers will complete their work March 25. Thereafter, until April 9, persons will be registered at the court house.

Each voter, to be properly registered, must sign in the presence of the registration officer two affidavits, the original white and the duplicate buff in color. Both cards will be returned to the clerk's office where the originals will be filed in individual precinct records, for use by the precinct boards on election day.

Last Day of Registration The last day of registration before the primary is April 9. Immediately after the primary, opportunity for registration will again be offered at the clerk's office until twenty-nine days before the general election in the fall.

Once registered, always registered, will be the rule as long as a voter remains in the county. Change of addresses must be reported to the clerk's office.

According to William P. Flannery, supervisor of registration at the clerk's office, the present cards used for each voter will last until 1936. This, it is said, represents a great saving in the cost of supplies, over the old system.

Thousands of lovers of good clean amusement will hail with delight the Persian Temple's announcement of their twenty-second annual Easter Show and dance at Tomlinson hall, Monday, April 2.

Added to the usual offerings of high class singing and dance novelty features by local talent, the program this year will include a surprise attraction called "The Mystery Feature".

The main production, "The Radio Revue", under the direction of the inimitable Milton (Dap) Waldon, will present 12 beautiful girls in a colorful jamboree of dazzling chorus effects. A mammoth street parade will precede the show. A publicity feature added for the first time is the use of a gayly dressed "town crier".

Mr. Waldon is assisted by Walter Green, Misses Henry Brown, musical comedy star and Mae Board, formerly of the Whitman Sisters, are directing the chorus assisted by Misses Emma Lamont and Margaret Nelson, former Brown Skin Models chorine.

James Pyles is the Persian Temple potentate.

Legal maneuvers designed to defeat a charge of embezzlement were instituted in Criminal court Monday by attorneys defending E. Louis Moore, local attorney, who was indicted last week on allegations that he had converted to his own use a $250 bank check, said to belong to the estate of Benjamin Bennett.

On arraignment before Judge Frank Baker, defense attorneys offered a motion to suppress the evidence of a witness on the grounds that it had been obtained illegally. It was over ruled. Judge Baker took under advisement a motion to quash the proceedings, at the same time announcing that he would give his decision at an early date.

Moore was arrested Friday following the grand jury indictment charging him with grand larceny and embezzlement. Later he was released on $1,000.00 bond.

About a week ago, Moore, sat as judge pro tem in Room three of the Superior court.

STATE LEADERS AROUSED BY REPEATED REBUFS TO EFFORTS TO GAIN RACE RECOGNITION

(By Staff Correspondent) Demands, fore or less articulate, by colored voters in the large population centers of the state, that they be given fair recognition by national state county and city officials are falling on deaf ears, latest reports to The Recorder show. And as a consequence, leaders throughout the state are freely predicting an upheaval among the colored citizens that may result in radical changes in party allegiances.

Although a veritable army of candidates are now in employed feverishly setting the bait for sufficient votes to land them nominations for office, few if any of their platforms have revealed any intention on the part of candidates to give any consideration to the welfare of Colored citizens in their districts.

Reports of the impending upheaval among Colored voters are issuing from all parts of the state in which there are sizable Colored populations. Chief among the sources from which the disturbing reports are being received are the leaders in the various Colored communities.

Voters Elye Lily Whitman Prodded on by the impatience and resentment of the masses among whom there is a growing consciousness of the attitude Lily white of white office holders and seekers, Colored leaders in both parties are becoming more vocal in their demands that candidates give some assurance of their attitudes toward Colored voters from the standpoint of a fairer apportionment of political jobs among them.

A state wide survey of the situation shows Colored voters outside of Indianapolis have never been recognized in the politics of the various counties except on election days.

In Gary, which has the second largest population in the state. Colored voters, though their positions are always secretly regarded by party leaders as very important, have gained only meager representation in city and county offices. They have been able to maintain a council for the past few years, but little else except a few janitor jobs.

Denied Opportunities Evansville, Terre Haute, East Chicago, South Bend, Muncie, Anderson and Fort Wayne are strikingly similar in that party representatives in office have consistently refused to appoint Negroes to office regardless of their loyalty at the polls. In none of these cities have the mayor appointed Negro firemen, policemen, women clerks in the County Clerks offices, or officers of the treasurers, auditors recorders, or other County officials.

Judges refuse to offer Negro positions in their courts as halliffs. There are no deputy sheriffs, and even in the street cleaning departments in most of these cities, mayors refuse to make Colored appointments.

In those centers where the Negro vote is influential, there is every indication that for the first time in the history of the state, the Colored vote is to be used in an attempt to defeat those Candidates who do not give assurances that the struggle of the Negro for political recognition will receive its just aims.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Lecl Morris, manager of the Shell Oil station at Tenth and Senate avenue, has announced his candidacy for Democratic Precinct committee of the Sixth precinct of the Seventh ward. He lives at 221 West Twelfth street.

Edward H. Mason, 741 West North street, is a candidate for delegate to the Republican State convention from the Twelfth ward, a position to which he was elected in 1932.

Mr. Mason is asking for the support of his friends.

Detective Charles (Pete) Carter Dies

Charles (Pete) Carter, for 24 years a member of the Indianapolis police department, died in the City hospital Thursday afternoon at 1:40 from a two-day attack of pneumonia.

Carter was appointed to the police force in 1910, as a patrolman. He was promoted to the traffic department in 1912. Seven years ago he was promoted to rank of detective sergeant.

He was born in 1883 and has lived here most of his life. His mother died about two months ago.

Arrangements for the funeral will await the arrival of two halfbrothers from Chicago.

MRS. HAROLD A. LEE Though not a Hollywood star, Mrs. Lee holds the social spotlight out-in gay sunny Los Angeles. The former Mid-Western girl, with a natural born "itness", is possessor of a quiet, unobtruding personality that make her at once one of the most renowned and most popular Pacific Coast Hostesses.

J. T. V. HILL COMMUNITY CENTER BASKETBALL TEAM UPSETS ALL DOPE TO WIN STATE NET TITLE

(By E. Porter, E. Horn, S. Johnson)

Coach Beard Whitestide's J. T. V. Hill Community Center Big Five won the fifth annual state independent basketball title here last Saturday by escaping with a close thrilling victory over the Raws Big Five another local team 18-16 while a full house in the Y. M. C. A. gym looked on with amazement. Hill had a narrow escape in their semi-final game with Ft. Wayne, a team that was doped to win the title by nosing them out in the last two minutes of play 20-19. This was the most thrilling game of the tournament. Ft. Wayne defeated Wilberforce early this season and had one of the strongest team in the tourney. On the other hand the Raws Big Five (Crispus Attucks ex-stars turned in an unexpected victory over Second Christian, last year's state champs in the other semi-final tilt by running away with them 31-24. Another strong 1934 contender was eliminated by Hill in Bloomington L.A.C. when they stopped the down state snipers in a close game 23-17.

COLORED JAILER DISCOVERER OF JAILBREAK PLAN

Escape from the Marion County jail is no easy matter, and especially when Negro jailers are on the job.

Contrary to published reports at the time a notorious criminal was discovered attempting to saw his way out of the jail, several weeks ago, that the discovery had been made by a white jailer, and a woman attorney, visiting a client at the time, the information leaked out Wednesday that credit for the discovery really belongs to Henry Walker, big, husky but fast stepping Colored jailer.

The story told by eye witnesses is that Walker, in making his rounds of inspection, discovered in the cell of Cronch, one of a gang of bandits sentenced to a prison term and awaiting to be transported to Michigan City State prison, a broom handle to which a hack saw had been fastened by broom wire. At the same time Walker noted that a chain secure in the door of the cell and two bars of an outside jail window had been sawed through.

To do this the prisoner had to extend the saw and broom handle through the heavy steel bars of the cell block, which could not be cut by the hack saw.

According to jail officials, Cronch's escape was impossible unless he, by some use was able to escape from the cell block.

Acting on the suggestion published in The Recorder last week, Littlejohn is being urged to make his race either for councilman or judge of Superior court.

Urged To Make Race Forrest W. Littlejohn, prominent local attorney and Democratic Political leader is being urged by his friends to run for public office.

1934 STATE CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY J. T. V. HILL

DOUGLASS HOST TO ENTER STATE NET TOURNAMENT

(By T. M. CHEEKS)
HENDERSON, Ky., March 15.—The New Douglass High School of Henderson, Ky., is holding an inter-state tournament in the New Gym on March 23-24. Eight teams have entered for the finals of the tournament, three from Indiana, Princeton, Mt. Vernon and Evansville. From the Blue Grass States, Earlington, Madisonville, Paducah and Bowling Green, have entered. The drawings for the first round will be held March 18.

This is the first time in history of the area that such an idea has matured. For the past few years much talk has been given to it. However, as none of the plans ever materialized nothing was done about it. Under the direction of Principal Menden and Coach Lorenza Jones the first tournament will be staged.

Will Be a Success.
It goes without saying such a tournament will go over in a big way. All the teams entered live in a 75 mile radius and have already played each other making the interest competition keener. Bowling Green, Paducah, Hopkinsville, and Evansville are the favorites in the meet. All have fine records and some mighty hard fought games are in the offing for all concerned.

SUMNER (KAN.) WINS MID-WEST TITLE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 15.—(Special)—Bringing to a climax two days of brilliant basketball by the leading prep basketball teams of this section, the tall, lanky cagers from Sumner High, Kansas City, Kansas, whipped the crack team from Booker Washington High of Tulsa, Oklahoma, to clinch the championship of the second annual Middle-Western inter-scholastic basketball tournament. Coach Edwards' Kansas City Basketeers presented a smooth passing attack combined with deadly shooting from all angles and distances that kept them consistently ahead of the hard-fighting Tulsa aggregation. Weldon, Greer and Thomas, the tall sharpshooters of the Kansas team opened an offensive in the second half that was not to be denied. At the half Kansas City led 16-10.

Y.W.C.A. SPORTS

St. Louis romped to a 6-0 game victory over the local team Saturday night in a volleyball game. The home team offered positively no competition for the St. Louis players.

Prizes for the game evening held in the Y.W.C.A. tearoom under the auspices of the Health education department were donated by the following: Siegel Grocery, Mendell's Grocery and Market, Kuh's Market, Hodges Grocery and Market, Zeor's Grocery, the Mue. Walker Mfg. Co., Atkins Flower Shop, Morgan Hardware, Mrs. Stella Walker, Mrs. Mary Talbott, Mrs. E. D. Moten, The Indianapolis Recorder, Murphy's Fish Market, Inc., Miss Mercede Wells, Miss Murray E. Atkins, and Miss Georgia Offutt.

About ninety persons took part in the entertainment. Miss Offutt is chairman of the department, Miss C. Annette Moten, secretary.

WARD SHINES

CHICAGO, March 15.—(Special)—Willis Ward led his Wolverine teammates at the University of Michigan to a Big Ten victory nosing out Indiana University by winning three events scoring 15 points. He won the 60-yd. dash in 6.2 seconds, 70-yd. high hurdles, .08:3, and high jump 6 ft. 2 1/8 inches. Michigan totaled 37 1/2 points while Indiana had 33 1/2.

LIONS FINISH SEASON

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 15.—Coach Tom Cheeks announced after his team defeated the fast moving Douglass high from Henderson, Ky., that his charges will take part in the interstate tourney instead of the national prep tournament in Tulsa. Tulsa strove desperately to overtake Sumner but the Kansas were not to be daunted. Medlock, Thompson and Pyles featured the play for Tulsa.

Many Affairs To Be Given for Coaches

Gary, Ind., March 15, 1934. Society will lend its touch to the First Annual National High School Basketball tournament among Negroes, to be held west of the mountains March 29-30 and 31st.

Many affairs of interest to the many coaches who will bring their teams here among the Greek Letter societies. Since all state schools will have been dismissed here to enjoy the Gary hospitality. No stone will be left unturned to make their stay a happy one.

Gary expects the largest delegation of athletes in its history when the whistle is blown to start the first game of the tournament. Roosevelt high will be defending its National title.

WINCHESTER WINS MEET

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 15.—Winchester high school copped the annual state championship here by trouncing the last year's winner 23-11 even though they were outplayed but not out-fought. Frankfort was expected to retain the title again but that something that flares up in a basketball game, and make an underling defy the toughest team robbed the locals of the 1933 crown.

THREE TEAMS SURVIVE TO BRING THE LAST OF OUR BASKETBALL STARS IN I. H. S. A. A. TOURNEY

With basketball as the rage of the town today, our attention will naturally turn towards the last of our group of players who will play on their respective teams in the great Indiana game.

Greencastle returns again to the fieldhouse, this time with Ewan Cartwright, a junior in the school playing his first year as a member of the Tiger Cubs team. His sniping prowess stands exactly 6 ft. and 1/2 inches, and carries with him everywhere he goes 170 lbs. So far he has not thought of going to college but as time rolls around, we should not be surprised to find him entering the portals of some college to further his education. Everybody's Greencastle is behind the Cubs this year and will set you their last look that they will win the tournament.

Buttons Bradshaw and his cohorts came through their regional meet in good shape to each the finals at Butler Fieldhouse, and all Brazil is set over the eventful achievement of the Red Devils. Brazil has been celebrating all week, false alarms, bon fires, no school Monday, banquets and every conceivable way to greet a champion who returns.

It's too bad that we haven't crashed the tennis barriers in a national way yet, but I believe that time is coming. When I think of men who have played in intercollegiate competition I recall, Douglass Turner who won the Big Ten title while he was a student at the University of Illinois; Richard Hudlin who was Captain at the University of Chicago; Reginald Weir who recently played at New York City college. What we need is more players in mixed schools in this particular sport, it is just as individualistic as track with one exception which is doubles where teamwork of two players is necessary. It is a challenge to our boys now coming along.

A new era in athletics is about to get started at Indiana University with "Bo" McMillin as the head. A new deal is also in prospect, aggreater Indiana in the sport arena. McMillin comes to our state University from Kansas where he has had successful seasons with football. Kansas State hates to give him up, but when a man can do better someone has to be the loser.

One thing certain, we hope the new coach will Give Our Boys a Chance to make the athletic grade; we know that we have better men than either Lyons or Babb. These men refused to enter our state colleges because they feared that they would be mistreated and not given an equal opportunity.

A man of Mr. McMillin's broad experience and knowledge will not work under any handicap, but will take free rein and build teams that Indiana University can feel proud of, mould his players from performance and not color or favoritism. Let's hope so.

GARY ATHLETES IN RELAYS HERE
Among the hundreds of athletes who will represent their respective colleges in the Second Annual Butler Relays March 24th will be John Mullins, Western State dash man, and relay anchor, and Alva Jackson, Michigan State high and low hurdler, high jumper, and relay man.

Recently in the C. I. C. meet at Notre Dame both of these Hoosier stars were the leaders of their teams. Jackson led his team the C. I. C. conference crown by copping two firsts and a trio for second helping his team with 12 1/2 points. In this same meet Mullins placed second in the 440 yd. dash, and ran anchor on the relay team which came in second to Pittsburgh, Kansas. Both of these boys will perform here at the end of the month in Butler's Fieldhouse.

ATTACKS IN SPRING SPORTS
Crispus high athletes have turned their attention to the annual inter-collegiate basketball game. The first on the spring calendar is the basketball games. The sophomores won the meet last year and will have to step to defeat the strong senior team this year.

Coach Alonzo Watford has over forty candidates from which to mould his 1934 grid team to represent the Tigers. Prospects are very bright for a winning team.

KATS VS. APES
CINCINNATI, O., March 16.—(Special)—Word came here today that the Kappas will play the Alphas in Cincinnati March 23rd. The Kappa team will come from Wilberforce. A large crowd is expected to attend the game and dance.

The Greeks Are at It Again—1934 Who?
The boys around the drug store corners are at it again that is the annual arguments for the team they expect to win the battle this year among the "Greeks." All Omegas think they are best, and all Kappas are boasting that they have the necessary stuff to win.

The question will really be settled at the Crispus Attacks high school April 6th during spring vacation when both fraternity teams get together.

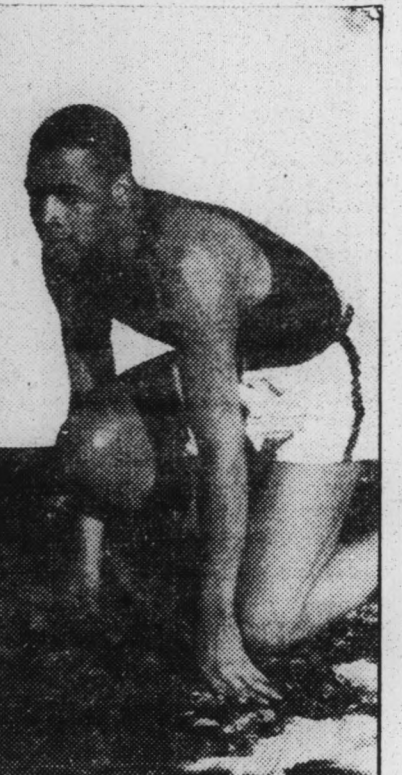

A large student following from Wilberforce University is expected to follow some of the stars to this city. From all indications there will be a number of parties after the game and dance, naturally giving the annual classic a social air that is foreign to the usual basketball game.

Ewan Cartwright

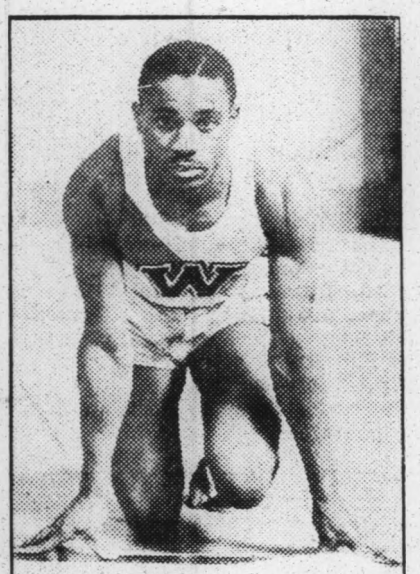

turns to the old home town after a victorious conquest. Well Brazil has a very good chance to win, but Greencastle will be in the path. As much as we hate to see it, may the best team survive.

HOOSIER TRACK STARS

started in the C. I. C. meet at Notre Dame last Saturday. Al Jackson led Michigan State to the championship; Mullins is a relay anchor for Western State of Michigan, and 440 sprinter.

TWO TEAMS WITH NEGROES IN FINALS

Fans and prophets witnessed one of the greatest reversals of winning punch this year among the teams playing in the I. H. S. A. A. when teams like Connorsville, Anderson, Peru, and Rushville lost out in their regional play. All of the teams mentioned had Negro players and had maintained a fair season record.

Nevertheless we are proud of the achievement of Brazil High on which Bradshaw is playing, Greencastle high which will bring Cartwright and Morton high of Richmond who brings Henderson here for the state finals at the Butler Fieldhouse, March 16-17.

In checking over the teams during the past season we found fourteen of our boys engaged in the hardwood sport of the various teams in the I. H. S. A. A. These were the teams: Brazil, 1; Connorsville, 1; Crawfordville, 1; Central, Ft. Wayne, 2; Central South Bend, 2; Anderson, 2; Greencastle, 1; Plainfield, 1; Peru, 1; Richmond, 1, and Rushville, 1. All Coaches of these boys should be voted a unanimous congratulation from the sports fans for molding and keeping together a team of players regardless of color or creed for these teams did make enviable records.

Now with two bronze athletes left to do their stuff on the hardwood let's go out and give them a big hand, send them letters, cards or telegrams out to the fieldhouse or to the local radio stations letting them know that we are with them win or lose. Remember Cartwright, Greencastle, and Bradshaw, Brazil, and Henderson, Richmond.

NEGROES AND PROFESSIONAL TENNIS

Looking over the vast number of tennis players and stars of our race and comparing them with the present group of pro stars, I find that we have a few top notchers but not good enough to draw the thousands through the gates like Tilden and Vines of the Americans and Cochet and Plaa, of France.

Our greatest players of all time are: E. G. Brown, Chicago; Reginald Weir, New York; the Jackson Brothers, Virginia; Douglass Turner, Chicago; Dick Hudlin, St. Louis; James Stocks, Pasadena, Cal.; Eyre Saiche, New York, and Theodore Thompson, Washington, D. C. If it were possible for this group of ebony clay court stars to get the experiences and competition as early as the present international stars, I would one of the first to say that they would rank high in the ratings.

It's too bad that we haven't crashed the tennis barriers in a national way yet, but I believe that time is coming. When I think of men who have played in intercollegiate competition I recall, Douglass Turner who won the Big Ten title while he was a student at the University of Illinois; Richard Hudlin who was Captain at the University of Chicago; Reginald Weir who recently played at New York City college. What we need is more players in mixed schools in this particular sport, it is just as individualistic as track with one exception which is doubles where teamwork of two players is necessary. It is a challenge to our boys now coming along.

INDIANA'S NEW COACH

A new era in athletics is about to get started at Indiana University with "Bo" McMillin as the head. A new deal is also in prospect, aggreater Indiana in the sport arena. McMillin comes to our state University from Kansas where he has had successful seasons with football. Kansas State hates to give him up, but when a man can do better someone has to be the loser.

One thing certain, we hope the new coach will Give Our Boys a Chance to make the athletic grade; we know that we have better men than either Lyons or Babb. These men refused to enter our state colleges because they feared that they would be mistreated and not given an equal opportunity.

A man of Mr. McMillin's broad experience and knowledge will not work under any handicap, but will take free rein and build teams that Indiana University can feel proud of, mould his players from performance and not color or favoritism. Let's hope so.

GARY ATHLETES IN RELAYS HERE

Among the hundreds of athletes who will represent their respective colleges in the Second Annual Butler Relays March 24th will be John Mullins, Western State dash man, and relay anchor, and Alva Jackson, Michigan State high and low hurdler, high jumper, and relay man.

Recently in the C. I. C. meet at Notre Dame both of these Hoosier stars were the leaders of their teams. Jackson led his team the C. I. C. conference crown by copping two firsts and a trio for second helping his team with 12 1/2 points. In this same meet Mullins placed second in the 440 yd. dash, and ran anchor on the relay team which came in second to Pittsburgh, Kansas. Both of these boys will perform here at the end of the month in Butler's Fieldhouse.

J. T. V. Hill Wins

D. Alexander.
The playing and guarding in the final game was so close that Hill committed twelve misdemeanors while the Raws made eight violations, both teams converted twice from the charity line. It was the stellar pivoting of White, Raws guard, who hit five times for scoring honors while Leonard Floyd scored four time for Hill. Both men earned the bulk of their points in the second half of the game.

The first half saw both teams playing evenly, each had scored seven points by the end of the half, three goals and one free throw a piece. Blassengame played a stellar role bringing the ball down the floor and keeping it in his possession until a mate found breaking for the basket. Leo Floyd played a splendid game taking the ball off the backboard. On the Raws Big Five, King probably was the best center in the semi-finals and finals. Most of the time he had control of the tip and used his height in tipping the ball when both teams were scrambling for it around the basket. Then Clark, Knox, and Russell were the other luminaries for the runners-up.

Immediately after the final game E. A. James, Director of Athletics at Crispus Attacks high presented the awards to the members of the winning team. Both received great ovation from the gallery.

Many Teams Disappoint
Avondale, Gary, 1931, state champions were expected to return to the scene of battle, but failed to make the trip, another team, the Hill Brothers, Evansville did not enter. Which made the sailing for several teams easy to the semi-finals.

Hostility began last Friday morning when the Raws ran rough shod over the Entre Nous, Evansville 41-13 after overcoming an eight point lead. King and Russell led the onslaught for the Raws while Harris and Turner were best for Evansville. The next game saw Second Christian having things their own way with the Muncie Trojans. The 1933 state champs led at the half 13-9 and increased this lead in the second stanza and went on to win 33-23. P. Johnson scored 16 points for the Christians while Stewart scored 8 points for the Trojans.

The Lincoln A. C. from Bloomington dropped the Metcalf Sport club, Indianapolis, 37-27. Big Fitzhugh Lyons, former Indiana University star, ran wild connecting for 14 pounds for the winners while Bradley and Mosby scored 10 points each for the losers. By default of the Muncie A. C., the Raws advanced to the semi-finals round: Second Christian defeated the Muncie Monarchs 33-27. Muncie led at the half 15-12, but the Christians came back fighting and took the lead never to be headed. Parnell and Evans were best for the Monarchs while Johnson and Clark were best for the Christians. J. T. V. Hill was led by Leo Floyd and Larry Dunnville to a victory over the Bloomington L. A. C. 24-17. Bloomington piled up a big lead early in the game and was out in front 8-2 at the half. The fireworks began in the second half when Lyons was held in check. Knight was the only Bloomington star to connect. Ft. Wayne advanced to the semi-finals when the Bloomington Rens failed to show up, Saturday afternoon the Raws drove around the Second Christian defense to win handily 31-24, they led all the way through the game. White, King and Russell starred for the winners while Johnson, Payne and Clark were best for the Christians. The Raws led at the half 12-8. The Hill netmen fought Ft. Wayne on even terms in the first half which ended 13-13. Buggs checked the fast moving Eastsiders from time to time, and his team had taken a small lead when he was pulled from the game. In the closing minutes Waters hit to put the game on ice. Seals, Blanks, A. Lester, starred for the losers while Blassengame and Waters were best for the winners. The final score was 20-19.

P. Johnson High Scorer

In tabulating the number of points made by leading players, we find P. Johnson center, Second Christian leading the field with 42 points. Next in order are: White, Raws guard, 22; Lyons, Raws forward, 20; Russell, Raws forward, 18; Clark, Second Christian guard, 15; King, Raws center, Leo Floyd, Hill guard, Len. Floyd, Hill center forward Parnell, Muncie Monarchs guard, Waters, Hill forward, and Blasser, game, Hill guard all had 10 points each. Evans, Muncie Monarch center and Chandler, Bloomington center totaled 9 points. Clark, Raws guard was the last with 8 points. Other players on the various teams were under eight points.

So for the second consecutive time Indianapolis will boast of an other state championship, what is more, an all Indianapolis finale at the end of the fifth annual tournament.

SHELBYVILLE LOSES

(By F. BROWN)
SHELBYVILLE, Ind., March 15.—The Shelbyville Trojans dropped a heartbreaker to the Bloomington Rens 21-20 after holding the Rens 12-3 at the half. The Rens broke fast and shot accurately in their comeback in the second. Bloomington will come here March 23rd for a return game.

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on. Creosolution with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble. Creosolution is powerful in the treatment of colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take. Your own druggist guarantees Creosolution by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolution as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolution on hand for instant use. (adv.)

GLAMOR OF LOVE FAILS TO INSNARE YOUTH OF TODAY IN EARLY MARRIAGE

(By Milton Ayres)

In the spring when the sap begins to rise, a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love. But does it also turn to thoughts of marriage?

On the basis of recent statistics, it does not. However, much the youth of today may fall in love as desperately and completely as the Romeo of yesterday, he manages to wiggle off the hook and stay off much more successfully now than formerly.

According to the statistics that have been compiled on the subject, the baiting season in which the female of the species has the greatest chance of winning a wedding ring is slowly receding into the imperfections of middle age. Young males, it has been discovered, do not marry at so early an age as they did in the days when the horse and buggy was the stylish means of transporting a girl to a dance.

After interviewing a number of young men who are not married, and who had passed the age of twenty-one our statistician gathered have caused sociologists to come to four dominant conclusions which we will touch on in the succeeding paragraphs.

True enough there are men who look at the material side of life, so much so that they lose sight of the religious, the moral obligation, involved they fail to see the advantages of having someone who might inspire them to accomplish that which is most impossible. The materialist is often quoted as needing money, wealth, position, and such earthly possessions before any consideration of marriage should occupy his uppermost thoughts. Yet we find young men who are marrying every day living on much less, but happily under the present conditions. Are young men as a rule shunning their responsibility because of their selfish material outlook upon life? Then there is another view which is very evident, the woman is earning more than the men, hence still another view of materialism.

When Parents Were Young Just ask any person around forty-five or older and find out for your self their age when they entered the life of matrimony; the age at the beginning of the twentieth century was eighteen, it had advanced to twenty by the second decade of the twentieth century and by 1930 it suddenly jumped to twenty-one. In 1933 after a nation-wide study it was noticed that the age had jumped to twenty-five and in some states still high. In Indiana we noted the average to be twenty-five.

A group of young men who set out in life to do certain things placing marriage as the crowning point of his endeavor. This is a trait of idealism, his greatest desire is to struggle hard to accomplish an ideal in which he is satisfied that he will succeed in sustaining a family. This same man would marry much sooner if he finds that he can't go through with his aim in life. This same man would marry, should he fall in love, with one who was willing to help him to gain that goal he is working towards, usually, and in general that man marries late in life.

But, still another group of men, who have many commonplace names today, never once thought of marriage, some are shiftless on their own volition, while others were made shiftless by some women. Many names given this class of men were pimps, sheiks, gigolos, sweetbacks and the like. In many small and large metropolitan cities we find this group of men some of whom are accepted in good society and some are not. Regardless, this group of men never marry on their own accord unless by force or fraud; usually this type of young men will wait until they are too old to chase around, and marry at an old age. In defense to the more respectable men who naturally marry at an older age, which is not necessarily true. We find the good time gang, night lifters, big city students, and in the alley. They're all members of the same strata, but occupy different social positions.

Older Men Trapped Yes, there is a type of older man who never once thought of marriage, nothing but bachelorhood, but some where along the line, probably late in life, suddenly finds himself infatuated with the glamour that usually leads them to the altar, so we have another type of mankind who marries late in life. Often the marriage of a close friend will cause him to change his attitude and relent to the call of nature.

After all does it take a fortune to get along happily in marriage, or just a bit of will power and initiative? How is it that young men in this city can sustain happy families on $40.00 a month. Sure they are always in debt, but they say the fun and satisfaction comes in the struggle and planning together, and above all, the sacrifice.

Want Action Meanwhile the Washington Tribune in a current issue editorially calls for action, and action now! "clamors" for a square deal under the New Deal as follows:

"Advice to Advisors" "For some reason the various advisors appointed by the administration to look after Negro affairs are strangely silent. We heard a lot about them before they were appointed, but as soon as they were sworn into office, they lost their tongues.

"In the meantime Negroes all over the country as well as those here 'under the advisors' noses' are clamoring for a square deal under the new deal. Segregation is rife, discrimination is rampant, and Jim Crowism is raising its head under the dome of the Capitol.

"What has happened to these alleged advisors? What are they doing other than drawing fat salaries? Not one has raised his voice against injustices committed against Negroes all over the country. We hear of these advisors only when they make polite speeches at pink teas. They may as well be in China for the good they are doing.

After all we are of the opinion these advisors do not care to advise as it might disturb the tranquility of their bosses—and the salary of an advisor is not to be sneezed at."

WHY JOIN CHURCH

Because of the Christian faith I have, I ought to belong to church. We must proclaim and give evidence of a faith that finds in Jesus the Divine Saviour who shall lead all nations into the salvation and glory of God.

I ought to belong to church because of what I can give it, as well as what I may get out of it and do through it. As a Christian and member of the church I should share a part of its responsibilities.

The church offers me a fellowship with the living God. All major crises of life are centered there. It

Poverty of faith is not due solely to individual lapses of character and perplexities of mind; it is due to neglect of Christian fellowship.

MAYORALTY CANDIDATES

This editorial is addressed specifically to the mayoralty candidates in the coming local election campaign.

The time is not far off now, when unimpaired guns on all the battle fronts will unleash their salvos of special political propaganda for public consumption.

Citizens of this community are soon to function as constitutional umpires in the bitter battle to be waged on the selection of a chief executive for the City of Indianapolis.

And the people of this City are very properly studying the characters of leading figures in the coming race.

Voters and tax payers are rightly examining the qualifications and planks of all aspirants to the highest local office, in the gift of the people of Indianapolis.

This is so because the people are interested now, more than ever, in their city government.

They want no more of ill-kept promises, procrastination, insincerity and get-no-where political humbug in their city government.

Because the people of this community are entitled to it they are going to see to it that they obtain a square deal at the hands of the next city administration.

Because they are entitled to enlightenment on the subject the people want to know, Messrs Mayoralty candidates, just how do you stand on the much controverted question of colored physicians and nurses serving on the staff of the city hospitals? Are you for or against it?

This question which involves the sacred prerogative of equality of representation for all the people before the law, is of vital importance to tax payers and voters in this city! We want you to know that Messrs office seekers.

It has been and still is being deliberately ignored.

The people know that and they are not a little indignant over what seems to them the organized official indifference manifested in the matter of hospital representation for our people in Indianapolis.

Now Messrs candidate for Mayor, what is your stand on this momentous question? The people want to know; they have a right to know.

To each mayor aspirant citizens are addressing these important questions; in the event that you are nominated and elected Mayor of Indianapolis will you tear down the bars of prejudice at the City Hospital?

Will you see to it that the rotten system of racial discrimination in vogue at that institution is eliminated? Will you attend to the matter of having competent colored doctors and nurses appointed to the City Hospital staff in the event that the people should elect you as their next mayor?

And so, Messrs Candidate for Mayor, now that you are about to appeal to the people to support your ambitious political fight, you are expected to answer these questions addressed especially to you.

Messrs Mayor Aspirants, your fellow citizens will await your replies to these questions with anxiety. It devolves upon you now, gentlemen, to speak your minds on this matter to the point, and unequivocally.

The people must have this information to enable them to make up their decision as to who they want for the next Mayor of Indianapolis.

Mayor Aspirants: How do you stand on the question of Negro physicians and nurses serving on the City Hospital staff?

The people demand an answer to this particularly.

It behooves you to respond, Now! Aspirants to the office of Mayor of the great City of Indianapolis.

THE DILLINGER DISGRACE

John Dillinger's seemingly almost unopposed exit from the Crown Point jail will long remain a serious blot upon the prison system of this state.

That the noted bank robber desperado, and his alleged confederate, Herbert Youngblood, were allowed to escape from the authorities with such obvious ease is, we think, a clear example of official worthlessness, and worse.

And the indifference with which the occurrence is being regarded by a surprisingly large number of Americans is equally condemnable.

The fact that Dillinger's father has received hundreds of fan letters from admirers of his son's prison breaking, bank robbing escapades is alarming.

Here is a case of an escaped convict, notorious bandit and killed "gun man" roaming the land and spreading veritable terror wherever he goes.

Meanwhile, Dillinger's expertness in the art of jail breaking and fleeing from justice is receiving the plaudits of a dangerously large number of people of both races.

That, certainly, is not encouraging.

One's cleverness is entitled to a measure of recognition and praise; but it makes all the difference in the world if such praise is lavished upon hardened criminality to the detriment of law and order.

It is easy to imagine what terrible effect this tendency on the part of the American people to praise crime is likely to have on the morals of the men and women of tomorrow.

Our children's future well-fare should be weighed well in balance before we openly condone vice and crime; and abet a lawlessness. That threatens to trample upon civilization itself.

Our duty as Americans is to discourage crime, not to encourage it.

RACE PAPER APPRECIATION

This newspaper has always been and still is, and always will be profoundly appreciative of patronage received from its thousand of patrons everywhere.

The rapidly increasing number of Recorder readers in Indianapolis, Indiana and the middle west accords to recent reports of fact circulation departures, is good evidence of the growing popularity of this publication.

We are cognizant of the healthy circumstance that our group is becoming more and more a reading people.

We know too, from close and systematic observation, that Negroes, everywhere, are placing a higher and higher estimate upon the essential mission of their newspaper.

Equally heartening is the fact that colored men, women and even children throughout the country, based on all sides with formidable barriers to their social and political heritages are beginning to realize how desperately in need they are of race papers with guts enough to carry on our legitimate fight.

This state of mind is substantially progressive and reveals the underlying demand by the group for more race papers of the aggressive, ambitious, intelligent and constructive type.

It is now safe to say—and happily so—that our people are manifesting a greater measure of concern over means of subsistence as enjoyed by Negro newspapers in the country.

They are more informed on the question involving the fundamental source from which the average newspaper must derive its business maintenance.

Every intelligent colored man, woman or child knows, or should know that the basic means of paper, any existence is represented in its volume of advertisements.

They know, too, that without paid advertisements there could be no newspaper.

And, of course, we are all acquainted with the negligible social status that rightly belongs to any group of people not ambitious enough to support their own agencies of representation.

And so, with such salient facts in mind, our people is crying need of the nation and of society.

The bill has all the earmarks of an effective piece of legislation against mob rule and its definitely pernicious effects. There is no reason why the measure should not become a law of the land for the common good of the people of the United States.

All citizens should prevail upon their representatives in both houses of Congress to give the Costigan-Wagner anti-lynching bill their full support.

The need now is to have the measure reported out of the Senate Judiciary committee favorably and immediately, for action on the floor of the Senate.

We call upon Senator Van Nuys, Indiana, chairman of this committee to use his influence to that end.

The country is in dire need of an anti-lynching bill with teeth in it. The Costigan-Wagner measure has the teeth.

HARRISON THE ACTOR

One more member of the group has entered the American hall of fame among other celebrities of the nation.

This time it happens to be a Negro with a dramatist's turn of mind, whose ability as an actor has merited for the latter wide and merited applause.

Richard B. Harrison, de laud potray in "The Green Pastures" was a recipient of enviable mention in the March 3 issue of the Literary Digest under the caption, "They Stand Out From the Crowd."

Significant enough, the talented race actor was the lone member of the group to be so honored with six other American citizens, among them, Joseph B. Poindexter, newly appointed governor of Hawaii; and Attorney Frank J. Hogan, reputed to be one of the shrewdest lawyers in Washington, D. C.

According to the Digest, Mr. Harrison began life as the son of fugitive slaves in London, Ontario and was a bellhop, waiter, railroad worker, dramatic reader and a teacher before he rocketed to fame on Broadway at an age when most

CRUISING 'ROUND'

BL LEE JAY MARTIN

Ideals and opinions expressed in this column are those of the writer, and are presented without regard to their agreement or disagreement with the editorial policy of The Indianapolis Recorder—The Editor.

"THE CHURCH O' SIGNS would be my name for a church house on Colton Street. Mind you I said church "house" not a church building, and saying "house" I say it purely for description purposes, for any house where God is worshipped and served can be just as holy as the most pretentious building. This church house or "Church Signs has a total of nineteen (19) signs on its front. One would hardly need to hear the pastor's sermon, if they took the time to read the signs.

WOULD SUGGEST that the staff photographer take a picture of this sign covered church and use it to advertise that "it pays to advertise."

IF THE EDITORS of some daily papers could go through this section of the city, taking time to consider the very bad conditions of houses and other "things" which human beings live in, and still oppose any plan for better housing, I would say, without hesitation, that their opposition was based on ulterior and selfish motives, rather than the welfare of humanity, the supposed principle of newspapers.

"SLUMS DO NOT mean that such districts are inhabited entirely by criminals and low-life people. Many honest communities are forced to live in these conditions because of economic reasons. On Torbett street, unpaved, sidewalkless, here and there an individually owned home tries to hold its head up amid its sordid surroundings of rental shacks, whose greedy landlords care only for the dollars they are able to squeeze out of their hard-pressed and shack-dwelling tenants. Matters not how small the rent, in this height of civilization, all rental property should be thoroughly modern, and kept so, most especially where the landlords receive rents twice and more than the original cost of such properties.

DR. OSBORNE is right in most of his more or less regular writings, but I think he errs when he infers that only the Negro is dependent on others for his lively hood. We all, to a great extent, are dependent upon each other whatever our racial identity. The farmer's most dependent of all is dependents for some things of life. Negroes are the chief producers of cotton, tobacco, molasses, sugar, and turpentine. They dominate the southern pig iron and coal production, they also play an important part in corn and hog raising. Peanuts in their product also. The Negroes share in the production of almost every product. Producers are not entirely, dependent.

BEARD WHITESIDE the versatile coach of the J. T. V. Hill state champion basketball players says the greatest kick he got out of his team's winning the championship was to show Lee Johnson that his prognostications were way off center. However we are glad to see the Hill Center team win the championship, it will help the east-siders to maintain an even par with the much touted west-siders.

THE AIR MAIL is not in the air but on the ground. The army's attempt at carrying the mail has cost too many lives, but those brave pilots who have died in obedience to the president, have not died in vain. These men and their bereaved families have contributed to the safety of the American people as a whole. If Gen. McArthur's air force is unable to carry the mail in peace time what protection could they give the people in wartime. There is no question of the courage and training of the army flyers, but flying under all conditions, takes more than muslin-covered frames.

IN UPHOLDING the reputation of the east side, the Honorable Frank R. Beckwith is the first of the group to announce himself for an office. Mr. Beckwith aspires to obtain the nomination for city councilman from the third district. He comes out on a platform of reform pledges. An honest and sincere young man, a promising attorney, a keen and resourceful politician. He should receive the votes of all those who do not vote for others.

men are thinking of retiring." Mr. Harrison, a recipient at Boston University of the Sigma Key, "is the only member of his race as well as the only actor who ever wore it"; comments the magazine.

"Although I am wearing the Key," Mr. Harrison is quoted as saying, "I do not believe it was given for me alone. I think it was given because of the team work of 'The Green Pastures Company'."

The actor's statement discloses a spirit of modesty, more of the quality of which is needed by Negroes in all walks of life today.

It proves Mr. Harrison to be a man of common sense and not one of the empty bragadocio type.

A MAN RESENTING the insinuation that he was a chicken thief, took his accuser into court. When the judge asked the man what his accuser said about him, he told the judge that his accuser said, that there were twelve chicken thieves in the town including him. The accuser denied him. The judge said that he had made such a statement, but that he told the man, that there were twelve chicken thieves in town without including him.

THERE WERE TWELVE gay and merry birthday celebrants at the Walker Coffee Pot last Saturday night including me. The affair was sponsored by the "Jolly Eight Birthday Club", celebrating the birthdays of the lovable and old fashioned Mrs. C. W. (witch) Strider, the pianist and beautiful Miss Viola (nudeist) Mitchell, and the easy-to-look-at Miss Theresa (great one) Genus. Between these two beauties I could not decide which one to talk with. You know it is a man's job to talk to ONE woman, and I could not figure out how I could talk to two and come out altogether.

IN FACT EVERY time I had a notion to say something to Miss Mitchell, I would look across the table and see Rev. and Mrs. A. S. H. Mitchell, her parents, looking in my direction, in such a motherly and fatherly attitude until I'd find myself speechless every time. The members of St. John A.M.E. church and the city are fortunate in having such a fine pastor and family. Then as I would get the notion to say something to Miss Genus, Mr. Rufus Cobb would blab out something and Miss Genus would turn her back on me.

MISS CLARICA WINLOCK, the president of the club had to use all of her executive ability keeping Mr. Cobb in line. Mrs. Willa Ware, had little to say, she however managed to keep on the train. Mrs. Lova Winlock kept Mr. C. W. Strider between herself and his better three-quarters. A big birthday cake and delicious ice creams were served. Only three candles were there and like all other birthday parties to the fair sex, we men folk were none the wiser. Mrs. Rufus Cobb, the life of the party, paying more attention to the guest than she did her husband, distributed the gifts. To Miss Genus went a table lamp, without a light; Miss Mitchell received a purse without any money and Mrs. Strider received a duck without a pond, all the gifts were highly appreciated by the recipients and admired by the rest of us. A theatre party was held previous to the eating party. No, according to the talk at the table Rev. and Mrs. Mitchell did not attend the theatre party if they did, I see no wrong. Thank you Jolly Eight and Mr. C. (Witch).

Mrs. Rufus Cobb, the life of the party, paying more attention to the guest than she did her husband, distributed the gifts. To Miss Genus went a table lamp, without a light; Miss Mitchell received a purse without any money and Mrs. Strider received a duck without a pond, all the gifts were highly appreciated by the recipients and admired by the rest of us. A theatre party was held previous to the eating party. No, according to the talk at the table Rev. and Mrs. Mitchell did not attend the theatre party if they did, I see no wrong. Thank you Jolly Eight and Mr. C. (Witch).

MISS CLARICA WINLOCK, the president of the club had to use all of her executive ability keeping Mr. Cobb in line. Mrs. Willa Ware, had little to say, she however managed to keep on the train. Mrs. Lova Winlock kept Mr. C. W. Strider between herself and his better three-quarters. A big birthday cake and delicious ice creams were served. Only three candles were there and like all other birthday parties to the fair sex, we men folk were none the wiser. Ishpeming Bridge Club Dances
Informally at Walker Casino

One of the season's most attractive informal dances was given last Friday evening at the Walker Casino by the Ishpeming Bridge Club. Approximately 400 guests enjoyed the delightful music of the Brown Buddies orchestra.

In the center of the hall on a beautiful grass plot, decked with gracefully spreading palms, stood a bubbling fountain on which soft, bewitching lights were thrown from magnificent torches. Palms also graced the orchestra pit.

Members and officers are Mesdames Emma Elizabeth Wilhite, president; Lula Jackson Dunn, secretary-treasurer; Misses Helen May Anderson and Margaret Susan Holdier; Mesdames Stella Mae Cox, Marion Elizabeth Douglas, Frances Nidy Stewart and Cleora Flye Thompson.

First Formal Dance By Snake Club
Given at the Trianon Friday

Five hundred of the city's dance-lovers attended the first annual formal dance given by the Snake Club Friday evening at the Trianon Ball room. In Memoriam
IN MEMORIAM

Wharton, Nellie—Nine years has passed since that sad day.
When one we loved was called away.
God took her home—it was His will.
Within our hearts she liveth still.
Mother and sister.

IN MEMORIAM

Johnson—A loving remembrance of a dear husband, James Johnson, who left me nine years ago, March 12, 1925.
Beloved husband, sweet, happy memories cling around you. Sadly missed by wife, Millie Johnson.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the organizations and friends for their kindness shown at the death of our mother and cousin Mrs. Mary Co. Wooden and the beautiful floral offerings and condolences. We wish to thank Reverends Saunders and Ogelsby for their comforting words, Mrs. Susie Goodman, soloist, and the chorus and Lucas B.

Friends Prepare For Funeral of Woman Who Jumped From 2nd Story Window But Police Prepare To Press Charges

Mourning by friends for the sudden, unexpected passing of Miss Sims, 23, proved a bit premature Wednesday afternoon.

Copious tears were being shed and possible funerals; arrangements were being discussed as the city hospital ambulance bore the body of Miss Sims, apparently perfectly lifeless, to the city morgue. The ambulance had been called to remove the limp body of Miss Sims from the middle of Indiana avenue in the 200 block.

It came hurtling through the second story window at 237 Indiana avenue, witnesses said only a few minutes before, and landed with a sharp thud in the street. She was supposed dead.

Today, police are proceeding on the apparently safe assumption that the body is very much alive, for Miss Sims is being held in jail on a charge of vagrancy.

At the hospital doctors treated the young woman who is heavy built for injury to her back. The impact of her body on the pavement following her jump from the second story window merely rendered her "lifeless" for a short time, it was explained.

Miss Sims, police were told, had an argument with Orville Anderson whom neighbors say is her boy friend, and when things got to hot, made for the nearest exit from the room.

Anderson is being held on charges of vagrancy and resisting arrest. Miss Bell Shirley, same address, is also held on a vagrancy charge.

P.L.M.—Will I get my old job back or any job in the near future?

Ans.: You have only been out of work about a month—but I see you working again soon. You are lucky not to be one of those who have been idle for a year or more.

B.E.W.—Will I win anything in the sweep stakes I hold a ticket for?

Ans.: No and it is very foolish to spend your money in this way.

M.W.—Will I be able to finish school and must I change?

Ans.: Don't be discouraged, Maletta. I think you will finish right where you are—and I see you a successful teacher.

Mrs. M. W.—Who took products and did they take them at my home?

Ans.: These products were stolen by a neighbor who had this in mind a long time. They were taken from under your buggy seat.

S.F.A.—Will I find happiness with the man I've gone with so long?

Ans.: It is my opinion that you will break up with this man—with in the year—or two at most. Guard your health right now—during March.

R.T.F.—What makes my boy have a desire to run away from home?

Ans.: Your boy was born under the restless sign of Pisces, symbolized by the two fishes, one running up stream and one down. If you could have some older person outside the home, bring to his attention the plight of some boys who have tried this—it may save him a lot of trouble.

B.C.L.—Have I chose the wrong one and does my boy friend mean me any good?

Ans.: You made a good choice but you are not sticking to it very well. Your boy friend—I get the initials W. M.—he does not mean you any good and he ought to be a bigger business than breaking up tomes.

E.M.J.—Will I ever have a baby?

Ans.: Yes Edna, I believe you will have more than one. Guard your health right now, during March and April. I see a chance for you during the latter part of the year.

J.J. Will I be successful in getting my old job back soon?

Ans.: I wouldn't depend on it—start looking for new openings and be tactful with superiors.

C.W.—Please tell me if this man will ask me to be his wife?

Ans.: A man whose initials are A. H. will ask you—but go slow—don't make any decision until after April. This is an important month for you.

C.E.—Please tell me if this man loves me and if I will see him soon?

Ans.: Yes—you will see him soon, and when you do, you had better give him his walking papers. If your husband finds out about it—you are liable to find yourself out in the cold.

S.H.—What about employment for me and will my friend and I enjoy happiness together?

Ans.: I am sorry, Susie, but I do not see any lasting happiness in this affair for you. My advice to you, is to dig in and fit yourself for some remunerative occupation. You should do well in any kind of office work—but you will have to go after it—don't make the mistake of thinking it is going to come to you.

SEGREGATION

nasium, the association began its assault upon the evil of segregation, smugly complacent in the belief that white America would quickly capitulate on a showing of the injustice, unreasonableness, and unfairness of race discrimination.

"Lately I have been doing some serious thinking and confess that the way out must be found in intelligent planning by the Negro." Dr. DuBois, using the lecture style in his talk, rather than the impassioned eloquence of the orator, traces the history of segregation from the days of the cave-men. There is little hope that it will be overcome for another five hundred years, he asserted.

Segregation has not always been based on color and Negroes would do well to forget it as far as possible, the speaker said.

Adjustment of the problems of segregation and race prejudice (which he finds are practically the same things), will be affected when colored farmers and workers by intelligent economic independence, the speaker told his audience.

Dr. DuBois was introduced by W. E. Grubbs, principal of School Number Twenty-four. Musical numbers were given by Frank F. Brown.

Must Pay Englishman for Stealing His Wife's Love

CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—(ANP)—

From London a Chicago Tribune dispatch Wednesday brought word of the conclusion of an alienations of affections suit in which Albert Sandler, white English violinist, won $12,500 in damages from Clarence Nathaniel Johnstone, described as an "American Negro Vaudeville Actor".

The report states that Sandler charged his wife with having committed adultery with Johnstone and that she admitted it. Johnstone and Mrs. Sandler sat together during the trial. They offered no defense, the only point at issue being the amount of damages.
